

CERTIFIED JOINT COMMISSION PROFESSIONAL (CJCP®) CERTIFICATION

Get certified.
Get recognized.

CJCP is the only accreditation credential of its kind endorsed by The Joint Commission. Earning your three-year CJCP certification signifies that you have achieved the highest level of accreditation knowledge in regulatory compliance (including CMS), the survey process, and related patient safety and quality issues.

YOU BENEFIT.

CJCP certification places you in the elite inner circle of accreditation professionals and brings you career-enhancing recognition as an expert in maintaining and leading your organization's compliance efforts.

YOUR ORGANIZATION BENEFITS.

As more organizations see the significant, positive impact CJCP professionals have on patient safety and quality, CJCP certification is becoming an important—and sometimes mandatory—part of the hiring process. Getting certified can add tremendous value to both your career and your organization's success.

YOUR PATIENTS BENEFIT.

Earning your CJCP certification helps you and your organization make a powerful commitment to quality for the patients and community you serve.
